LANCASTER AND VICINITY.

Fresh oysters at T. Curry's.

The best bargains in Harness, Saddles, Bridles, &c., at Conn's.

Preaching as usual at Methodist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Don't forget we are headquarters for buggy harness. See our prices. W. J. Romans.

The most successful Disc Plow made is the Chattanooga Disc, sold by Ed. C. Gaines.

Store Room For Rent. Known as the Gaines room. Possession given immediately. Apply at THE RECORD office.

The large tobacco barn on Paulding street is about full of tobacco. This will furnish employment to a lot of hands when it has to be handled.

The flopper-jack pulled loose from the gilder-fluke at the electric light plant Sunday, and there were no lights that night. A new one was secured and things have been running all O. K. since.

Bus to Meet the Trains.

Mr. W. B. Burton, the liveryman, is having his big bus painted and put in first-class shape to meet all trains, both day and night. As there are no street lights after midnight, those traveling on the night trains will hail with delight Mr. Burton's enterprise.

Wanted.

Some of the gas-bags to read the clippings from other papers published in this issue of THE RECORD. Its said so often in Lancaster that "This little paper here don't know nothing about it," that we print today what other papers say. But make they don't "know nothing" either.

Council Meeting.

At the regular meeting of the City Council, Judge J. C. Hemphill was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Rice Benge, who has moved to the country. Capt. J. Dee Turner was re-elected marshal at a salary of fifty dollars per month. Tax collector J. D. Pearce reported $255 collected. No one has yet been appointed to take charge of the work house, but this will be done later.

Go to the Opera House to night.

Anything you want in the eating line, you can get it at Curry's.

Curry sells good goods as cheap as you pay for inferior goods at other places.

You need not call at our mill for flour, all grocers keep it.

J. S. Minor & Son.

Ed. C. Gaines is agent for Chattanooga Hancock Disc Plow, first and best ever brought to Garrard county.

Come in and pay your accounts, I have "carried" you through for twelve months, now you must help me get out. R. A. Stone.

Minstrel Parade at 3:15. Sun's big minstrels will arrive on the afternoon train, and give a monster parade at 3:15. See it.

Clay Hamilton is having neat quarters fitted up for the telegraph office at C. D. Powell's store on Richmond street. Clay is a fine operator and very obliging.

Last year Gus Sun's Minstrels were voted fine. This year they are stronger and better in every way. Opera House to night, 10th.

A fake report is sent out from Lancaster saying buzzards are devouring sheep. "Things have changed" when a buzzard will attack any live animal.

Capt. Lillard's Announcement.

Capt. E. W. Lillard, of Danville, places his announcement for state senator in this issue of THE RECORD. Capt. Lillard was engaged in business here for some years and has many friends in Garrard.

New Blacksmith Shop.

Mr. G. S. Greenleaf has opened his shop on Lexington street, and is better prepared than ever before to give the public first-class work at reasonable prices. Competent workmen and best material used.

Prices Reduced.

To suit the times and satisfy the public, the admission to Gus Sun's Minstrels, Thursday night, January 10th, will only be 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seats on sale at Stormes drug store. This is one of the best shows on the road, and the price is only put down for the reasons above given. 2t.

For sale, pure bronze turkey gobblers 4t. J. E. Stormes.

If you want pure candy go to T. Curry's and get Shryock's & Co's. pure candies.

Always on top in quantity and quality, and at the bottom in prices. T. Curry.

Plane For Sale.

In fair condition. Will be sold at a bargain. Apply at this office. -n29-tf

All parties in debt to me must come forward and settle at once, I need the money, and must have it. R. A. Stone

I would advertise my furniture business but, there is no need of it, I am selling so cheap, that I can't buy it fast enough. R. A. Stone.

House For Rent.

4-room house at Camp Dick Robinson, known as the toll house. Good garden and outbuildings. 12-7-tf. Banks Hudson.

Gus Sun's American Minstrels travel in two private Pullman cars and number fifty people. Opera House to night. Seats at Stormes.

A few left to go at Cost. As I am increasing and improving my repository, I will sell at cost anything you solicit in my stock of buggies. Call at Conn's Carriage Shop.

Flour—You can get Ward's White Swan, Minor's 4-X or best; Potts' Perfection; Baughman's No. 1; Ballard and Ballard's Obelisk; J. E. Miles & Son, J. E. M. Take your choice, only 60c. per sack, at T. Curry's.

Will Lecture Thursday.

Mrs. M. W. Bender will lecture Thursday, Jan. 10, at 2 o'clock, at the W. C. T. U. rooms, subject "Health and Hygiene." Ladies are all invited. Admission free.

Coal and Feed.

Best coal always on hand, also a cheaper grade, for those who prefer quantity to quality, yet a good cheap coal. Ship stuff, shelled oats, Hay, etc., at Leavell's Mill.

The Week of Prayer.

Fairly good size audiences have attended the services held in the churches this week. Each service has been very interesting, but the people did not turn out as they should. This don't speak very well for a christian community like Lancaster. The services will conclude to night, when services will be held in the Baptist church, with sermon by Rev. L. Robinson.

Death of James Walker.

After a brief illness, Mr James Walker died at his home on the Buckeye pike near McCreary, Thursday morning. He had suffered a stroke of paralysis, from the effects of which he never recovered. He leaves a widow and several grown children. He was a brother of Mr. E. M. Walker, of this city, and a man greatly liked by those who knew him. He was a member of the local Masonic lodge, which conducted the funeral services at the Lancaster Cemetery Friday morning.

The Garrard Open.

The New Garrard has thrown its doors open to the public. So many changes have been made that it doesn't look like the original hotel at all. A nice reading room has been partitioned off, partitions built at the staircase, a check room built, new lights put in the second and third stories. Mr. Long has received one of the handsomest office counters ever placed in a country hotel. The place is as neat as a new pin, and is now something of which every Lancaster citizen is very proud.

An Open Letter.

Editor Central Record:—Lancaster, Ky.—Will you be so kind as to publish the following statement of facts: Six years ago I was attacked with la-grippe, followed by rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, liver and kidney diseases, finally lost vitality and nervous prostration. I had to treat me a number of the best physicians in the country, also took many patent medicines that did me no good. My suffering was so great that I would pray to die, and had to take morphine to ease me. I love my physicians, they did all they could for me, but the medicine did me no good. I wish I could get all the world together, especially my friends in Madison county, so I could tell them how I was cured. My mind was directed to Dr. C. M. Kennedy, now located at Lancaster, Ky., where I began treatment under the system Osteopathy and Weltmerism, following it up for 13 days without drugs or medicines. I feel like a new man again, and have no more pain.—I am now a well and happy man, and I wish every one who is suffering with disease would go as I have done and be made whole again. This statement is unsolicited, and any one can, by enclosing a two cent stamp get a full detail of my case by addressing me at Kingston, Madison county, Ky. Rev. N. B. Creekmore.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

A mass meeting will be held at the court house in Lancaster, on Tuesday, Jan. 15th at 1:30 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the question of securing for Garrard county the Southern road. Ex-Gov. Wm. O. Bradley and others familiar with the situation will address the meeting. Every citizen who has the interest of our county at heart is earnestly requested to be present.

All kinds of carriage work and repairing at Conn's.

Biller fixtures, Engines repaired, Smokestacks built by Conn.

Shall we go to work and get that railroad, or let it pass simply for lack of interest.

For rent, a nice office of two rooms on Lexington street. For terms, apply to Mrs. Dr. O'Neal.

W. J. Romans sold his house and lot out on Stanford pike to J. L. Woner for $1,200.

Charley, the infant son of Mrs. Hobbs, died Saturday night and was buried Sunday at Preachersville.

Sixty-four of Jessamine county's most prominent farmers who bought the Hancock Disc plow, say it has no equal. Sold by Ed C. Gaines.

Must Have 'Em Tuesday.

Some of our correspondents' letters have recently been reaching us too late for publication. We must have these by Tuesday morning, to insure insertion.

Our spring stocks of buggies, surreys, phaetons and road wagons are now coming in and are the largest and most complete lines ever in Lancaster. Prices can't be duplicated. W. J. Romans.

Money For Teachers.

Miss Elisa Lusk requests THE RECORD to say she will be able to settle in full with the teachers Saturday, Jan. 12. The last check for school money will reach here at that time.

To County Teachers.

Miss Amanda Anderson requests THE RECORD to say that she would be pleased to see each teacher in the county when they come to town next Saturday. She has something of interest to them.

Suit Withdrawn.

C. W. Lester, former State Inspector or Examiner, has dismissed his libel suit for $5,000 against W. P. Walton, former editor of the Stanford Interior Journal, brought in the Whitley Circuit Court.

Let Us Prove This.

You don't have to run off to other towns to get a good hand made buggy. We are building them in our own little city. Come see the material going in them. Money can not buy better material than we are putting in these buggies. W. J. Romans.

A Mistake.

Miss Annie Royston came up to tell us the report that she had resigned as a teacher in the Graded Schools was a mistake, and that she has no idea of severing her connection with the schools. This report, we find, was started by some idle gossips who had more time than anything else. Tattlers will tattle and if they would only confine their gossip to matters concerning themselves, 't would cause no trouble.

County Wants Bids.

The fiscal court has advertised for bids on furnishing metal for the various turnpikes in the county. The advertisement consists of printed bills setting forth what is wanted. All such things should be advertised in a newspaper, where everybody, (that is everybody who would likely be interested) will see it and know what is wanted. It costs something, 'tis true, but it will save money in the long run. Kentucky is the only state in the Union so far behind the times as to depend upon the fence post method of making judicial announcements.

Death of Miss Warren.

News of the death of Miss Marie Warren, which occurred in Stanford Sunday, cast a deep gloom over the many friends of the family in this city. Miss Marie was the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Richard C. Warren, and was in her 26 year. She had been in declining health for some time but no one thought her to be so near death's door. She contracted a cold a few days since which hastened death. Miss Marie was a lovely girl, and was admired and adored by all who knew her. The grief-stricken family have deepest sympathy from their many Lancaster friends in their great bereavement. Funeral services were conducted at the Lancaster Cemetery Monday afternoon, and the remains gently laid to rest until the Arch Angel's trump shall usher in the resurrection morn.

To the Citizens of Garrard County.

LANCASTER, KY., JANUARY 9, 1901.

From information just received, (and as published in the daily papers) we are informed that the Southern Railway has commenced the final location of the line from Jellico to Burgin, Ky., work having commenced at Jellico on Jan. 4th.

In view of the fact that the road has signified its willingness to build the line through Garrard county, PROVIDED THE RIGHT OF WAY IS GIVEN, we deem it wise to call the attention of our citizens to a few advantages to be derived by them from the building of this road. The only manner in which we can secure the right-of-way, is by private subscription, the present Constitution of Kentucky prohibiting a county voting a tax for such purposes. We feel that it is the duty of each and every citizen of Garrard to do what he can toward this, the greatest improvement and enterprise we will ever have offered us. A portion of the right-of-way has been obtained, but there remains a larger part yet to be secured.

It is estimated that the right-of-way will cost about $25,000., which sum is exceedingly low, when you consider the many advantages to be derived therefrom.

The following will show some of the advantages the road will bring to the citizens of Garrard:

Miles of new road built in the county, 16. Taxes per mile, $25,000. Sixteen miles at $25,000 per mile, $400,000. Other railroad property, including depots, side tracks, water tanks and one-half bridge across Dix river ($100,000 making a total of $420,000 increase taxable property. At the present rate of 9 1/2 cents this will bring into the county treasury $4,095 in taxes.

Last year there were 510,000 bushels of wheat shipped from Garrard county to the markets. As everyone knows, the price of wheat in other localities has always been from three to five cents per bushel more than we can get here. This is on account of not having better railroad facilities. The new road will open not only another line to our present markets, but give us a direct line to the seaboard at Norfolk, Va., and Newport News, the greatest shipping points on the seaboard for wheat. Take this advance at, say three cents cents, and it will make a total of $15,300 increase on wheat alone for one year for our farmers.

There were five hundred carloads of coal received at Lancaster alone last year. A conservative estimate of forty cents per ton saved on freights on this amount of coal will make the astonishing figure of $8,000. These estimates were made by prominent shippers and receivers of coal and wheat, and who thoroughly understand the situation it is now exists.

These three items, the increased taxes brought into the county by reason of the new road ($4,095.) the increased price of wheat, say 3cts per bushel ($15,300) and the saving of forty cents per ton on coal received at the Lancaster depot alone ($8,000) makes a grand total of $27,395, which the people of Garrard county would save by virtue of the road being built.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the citizens of Boyle and Lincoln counties to secure this road (which would leave Garrard county out entirely) a former survey having been made through those counties, but as stated above, we are assured that if Garrard county can comply with her first proposition, give the right-of-way to the company, it will surely be built this way, but if not it is certain to miss us, and we will be forever cut off from outside markets.

PREACHERSVILLE.

Sam Ballard had two calves to fall into a well and drown.

J. L. Anderson has been very sick, but is better at this time.

John Kennedy has gone to house-keeping in the Joel Holtzclaw house.

J. W. Cummins has returned from Williamsburg, where he sold a car load of hay.

Mr. J. T. Holtzclaw mashed the thumb on his left hand so badly he had it amputated.

J. P. and S. A. Ballard bought of Bird Matheny, his farm two miles east of this place for $1,700 cash.

Our school is starting off nicely. The teachers can not be surpassed in any of the schools in Kentucky.

Rev. W. B. Ragan, P. E., of the London district, left last week for Jackson, to hold his Quarterly meeting.

Mr. Brown was here last week collecting for the Record, so I suggest that all pay up, also all who borrow the paper to become subscribers.

Prof. J. C. McKee has bought a half interest in the J. F. Holtzclaw land recently purchased by Rev. H. B. Cockrell, on which the new college will be located.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reynolds, of Bee Lick, were visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flen Cummins, Sunday. Miss Allie White has been visiting Mrs. F. F. Cummins.

We extend our sympathies to Mrs. Mattie T. Hobbs over the loss of her babe, which was buried at this place Sunday. May the Lord sustain and keep her in this trying hour.

PAINT LICK.

Corn is selling at $1.85 per barrel delivered here.

It is reported that there is a case or two of diphtheria near here.

E. L. Woods sold a bunch of feeders to Tom Curtis, of Madison.

Fish and Company shipped seventy-five car loads of logs last week.

Mrs. C. B. Engleman drew the nice dinner set offered by R. L. Jennings & Company.

Wm. Powers sold one hundred acres of land to Hiram Asbill, at forty dollars an acre.

Mr. Sautley Hughes and cousin, Miss Packard, were Miss Annie Francis guest, Sunday evening.

Mr. Shepherd filled the pulpit at Mt. Tabor Sunday morning and evening. Regular meeting days the 1st and 3rd.

Mr. Marshall Davis and wife, of Nicholasville, and Sam Haselden and wife, of Lancaster, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jennings, at the Veranda Hotel Sunday.

Mrs. John Bright, Jr., is visiting her parents here. Great talk of organizing a Ladies Maccabee Society. A good thing, keep it up. Miss Mae Barbour, of Indiana, is the charming guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Lear.

The boys here have organized a gymnasium club and are practicing every night. They can perform some difficult feats on the horizontal bar, and are also good tumblers for the practice they have had—they will soon be ready to make an engagement with the Sells Bros., or some other large railroad show.

Mr. Burdette Ramsey and Miss Tillie Arnold of Cartersville will be made one at 3:30 this evening. After which an elegant reception will be given them at the home of the groom's parents. It has been quite an extended courtship and both seem to be very much in earnest. So THE RECORD and all wish them many happy hours in their wedded life.

"The Paint Lick Social Club" has had a very pleasant Christmas meeting with each other. The last party they attended was that given last Thursday evening by Miss Kathleen Denton, which proved to be one of the enjoyable events. Quite a crowd assembled about 8:30 o'clock, and the sweet strains of music and laughter roamed through all the crowd. Those present were Misses Francis, Geizer, Alma and Mary Lear, Mae Barbour, of Indiana, Wallace, Messrs Will and Richard Jones, Harvey Francis, Jim Rucker, Dr. C. E. Poyntz, Messrs Elkin, West, Anderson and Collier, of Lancaster, Wallace, Point Leavell. Everyone feels they are greatly indebted to Miss Kathleen for such a pleasant evening.

Beat Out of an Increase of His Pension

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

Jealousy is a key that opens many wedlocks.

The fragile babe and the growing child are strengthened by White's Cream Vermifuge. It destroys worms gets digestion at work, and so rebuilds the body. Price 25 cents. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

It troubled with a weak digestion, belching, sour stomach, or if you feel dull after eating, try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price 25 cents. Samples free at McRoberts drug store.

About the worst joke a woman can play on a man is to marry him.

Many a bright and happy household has been thrown into sadness and sorrow because of the death of a loved one from a neglected cold. Coughs' Honey of Tar is the great cure for coughs, colds and all pulmonary ailments. Price 25 and 50 cents. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

The Mothers Favorite

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

H. F. Hillenmeyer says that though the wheat is injured to some extent, the drought will prove advantageous to the farmer for the mineral fertility will thereby be brought to the surface.

The farm of 90 acres belonging to Wm. Quaintance in Bourbon was sold to J. McHove at $88 per acre.

George W. Bramlett, of Carlisle, has bought 63,960 acres of mountain land from assignees of Hargis & Fetter for $60,000. The land is full of the finest coal timber and when the railroad strikes it it will be very valuable.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says: "I must confess that I do not favor the raising of grain to sell. The prosperous farmer is he who raises grain as a raw material and feeds it to domestic animals. They make their farm a factory by adding skill to raw material and putting it into a finished form before offering it for sale. Fine horses are wanted; fine cattle and sheep. Hog products are in great demand, and so is poultry. The farmer should turn raw material on the farm into high selling products. The man who is depending on the ground, selling the grain that he grows, may as well make up his mind that the longer he does it the smaller will be his returns, because he is continually selling the plant food of his farm."

Wheat is growing so rank in the Arkansas Valley wheat belt, embracing territory that produced over 40,000,000 bushels last year, that the farmers are advertising to take stock free for the purpose of eating it down. The indications at this time for the crop are 25 per cent more favorable than they were at the same time last year. It is now estimated that Barton, Sumner and Sedgewick counties will produce 20,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

This world is full of microbes. The tramp is a parasite that eats the bread of honest toil; the bore is a parasite that devours the time of the busy man; the gossip is a parasite that destroys the happiness in many a home with words of sugar coated venom; the slanderer is a parasite that murders character; the hypocrite is a parasite that entraps the unwary with falsehoods while wearing the mask of fairness.

The sum of $110,000 has been appropriated for the purchase of 3,000 cattle and 500 brood mares to be distributed in Cuba among the farmers of the provinces of Santa Clara, Puerto Principe and Santiago, where they will be sold at cost and on easy instalments. Senor Dacosta, Secretary of Agriculture, in a recent visit to the United States, made inquiries as to the classes of cattle best adapted to Cuba and decided in favor of Kentucky stock. If they take any but very young stock, we mean calves, weanlings, every one would die in that tropical climate.

The internal revenue office holds that a farmer or grower of tobacco has the right to sell tobacco of his own growth to any person and in any quantity desired, but that this is a personal privilege which the farmer can not delegate to another person. The officer also holds that no other person can be employed by the farmer to sell and deliver his tobacco to customers, but that a farmer may place his tobacco in the hands of any qualified dealer in leaf tobacco or to manufacturers of tobacco or cigars, or to persons who buy leaf tobacco in packages for export. Some manufacturers have complained that leaf tobacco is being sold in small quantities by persons who did not raise it and that these persons buy it from farmers and afterwards travel from place to place and sell to customers. These persons are violating the law and are being arrested and prosecuted.

Reconsidered.

A Topeka man lost a small opal set out of his ring and went to the jeweler to have it replaced. Returning home he found the lost set and, putting in his mouth for safe keeping, hurried back to the jeweler's to have that set used instead of the new opal. Rushing into the store he said: "Say I've found the old set, so don't use that new one." He attempted to remove the stone from his mouth, gave a gulp, looked sleepily, and said: "I guess you'll have to use the new stone."

That man needed a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Sold by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

The men that marry most frequently for money are the ministers. Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief, for it digests what you eat. F. P. Frisbie. Some husbands are so indulgent that they can never come home sober.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks. Prof. Roxa Tyler, of Chicago, Vice President Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by R. E. McRoberts druggist.

The Making of Good Coffee

Begins in the growing. Anywhere between the plantation and the coffee pot the flavor may be changed, the quality spoiled by carelessness, inexperience, or unscrupulous methods. From the time Arbuckles' Coffee leaves the hands of the grower until it reaches the user in a sealed packet, it is handled with the same watchful care, the same thought for cleanliness, that you would give any article of food that goes on your table. That's the reason it costs the grocer a cent a pound more than its cheap imitations. The extra cent you pay for buys much more than a cent's worth of quality and strength. A pound of Arbuckles' Coffee will give you more cupfuls of better coffee than you would get from other package coffees.

Be sure you get Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. Other package coffees are but imitations of Arbuckles'.

In each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee there is a list of articles. With each package in which the list is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the list, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to our Notion Dept. ## FINAL LOCATION.

Party of Engineers Now Making Final Survey and Location of Burgin-Jellico Extension.

The Knoxville Sentinel of Saturday, says:

The Southern Railway company is now apparently preparing to build the extension from Jellico, Tenn., to Burgin, Ky., a distance of 105 miles, thereby giving a connection between the Knoxville division and the Louisville-St. Louis line.

A party of civil engineers in charge of W. B. Crenshaw, of this city, went to Jellico this morning to confer with W. H. Wells, chief engineer of the Southern railway, concerning the route. The camping outfit and supplies have been sent to Jellico, from which point another survey of the proposed line will be started. Two surveys have been made already.

For some time the question of building this extension has been considered by the Southern railway. After the original surveys were made nothing further was done until today. The attitude of the city of Cincinnati's trustees of the Cincinnati Southern road, in regard to the renewal of the lease by the Southern railway, and the decision of the officials not to pay the rental asked by the trustees makes it almost a certainty that the line will be built.

W. B. Crenshaw, who will have charge of the survey, has just completed some work for the Southern in Alabama. Last Monday he received instructions to report at Jellico today. He spent Thursday in the city purchasing supplies for the engineering camp, and also secured a cook and several other camp employees here. Accompanied by E. C. Miner, resident engineer with headquarters at Atlanta who arrived in the city Thursday afternoon, Mr. Crenshaw left this morning for Jellico. Before departing he was seen by a Sentinel reporter, and asked regarding the building of the line. He said:

"The only thing I know about it, is that I was ordered to Jellico, where I am to meet Mr. Wells, who brings the remainder of the engineering party from North Carolina, where the Southern has been doing some work. I was also ordered to secure supplies for a camp and a cook."

B. C. Milner was also seen, and he said: "Whether the Southern is going to build the line from Jellico to Burgin or not I do not know, but a party to make a survey has been ordered to Jellico today. The route will be directly through the mountains, and it will be a big undertaking to get a line through there. It will mean the outlay of a large sum of money. It will take some time to make this survey, but if it is built, it will not take a great time to complete it."

The building of the Jellico-Burgin line is accepted by many as indicating that the Southern railway intends to cut loose from the Louisville & Nashville on Knoxville-Louisville business. Heretofore the Southern has had to reach Knoxville from Louisville over the Louisville & Nashville tracks and its sleepers and freight out of Louisville by way of Jellico where handled by that road, but with a line from Burgin to Jellico the Southern will have its own tracks from Louisville to Knoxville. With the new line it will not only save a vast amount of money in tolls, but will have a direct line from St. Louis and the West, via Louisville, to the Atlantic Seaboard at Norfolk, as has previously been stated in The Sentinel.

The line will open up new and rich mineral fields in Pulaski, Lincoln, Garrard and other southern Kentucky counties. The line has been contemplated for some time and when it is completed it will make the Southern railway a greater trunk line from the west to the east, as well as from the north to the south.

An elegant repast was served, the guests remained until a late hour when all departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw a long and happy life.

INTEREST AT KNOXVILLE.

Business Men there Realize the Importance of Building the Jefferson Line.

The Knoxville Journal-Tribune, of Saturday says:

"There was considerable comment among business men and railroad officials yesterday over the exclusive announcement in the Journal and Tribune of the day that the locating surveys for the Burgin extension of the Southern railway in Kentucky would be begun immediately. There is no question of the numerous advantages which will accrue in Knoxville from the building of this link of 105 miles, which will connect the St. Louis-Louisville lines directly with the main lines of the Southern system in this city. This will give another outlet by rail for Knoxville's manufactured products, and will in effect, almost amount to the building of a competing line, for it is assumed that the Southern's decision to build this line means that the road will give up its lease of the Cincinnati Southern railroad at its expiration, which will be during the coming summer. This being the case, it is probable that the Cincinnati Southern will be leased by some other company. No intimation has been made as to a lease to a competing line of the Southern, but it is not regarded as unlikely by local railroad officials that the Louisville and Nashville may take the Cincinnati Southern, which would bring that system into almost direct competition with the Southern in this territory.

The Cincinnati papers have had a great deal to say recently about the high price at which the trustees of the Cincinnati Southern were holding the lease of that property, and have contained articles to the effect that if the road was not leased to the Southern, president Spencer would certainly build the Burgin extension, which would result in cutting off a large share of Cincinnati's trade and diverting millions of dollars of freight business through other channels which have heretofore been carried over the Cincinnati Southern's tracks. The Cincinnati Southern, as is well known, is owned by the city of Cincinnati, and is managed by a board of trustees and directors, having been leased to representatives of some of the larger systems ever since it was built. For most of the time it has been part of the Queen & Crescent Route, between Cincinnati and New Orleans.

B'g Show.

Marion & Pearl, comedians and dancers, well and favorably known throughout the amusement world, are with The Gus Sun American Minstrels. Last season they were with the Primrose & Dockstader Minstrels. Their knock-about work is funny enough to make a sick man laugh. In fact they have the reputation of belonging to the front row of funny men. Opera House to night, Thursday. Seats on sale at Stormes' drug store. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents. Front seats reserved for children, at 25 cents.

A BRILLIANT EVENT.

Ball Given by Lancaster Hop Club an Enjoyable Event in Every Way.

The Lancaster Hop Club is to be congratulated upon the great success of the dance given Tuesday evening. The spacious store room of Mr. Jesse W. Sweeney was put in excellent shape for the occasion, and made an ideal place for dancing. As admission tickets were issued, there was a pleasant absence of the objectionable element that sometimes force themselves in on such occasions. The young men were on their best behavior, not one indulging in the use of liquor. The evening was most pleasantly spent, absolutely nothing occurring to mar the happiness of those present. Music by Saxton was, as it always is, elegant and many encores were given this, the best band in Kentucky.

Below is a list of the young ladies, or as many names as we were able to get in the crowd. If any are omitted, it is not done intentionally.

Miss Pattie Miller, Richmond, white silk.

Miss Fannie Doty, Lancaster, white satin.

Miss Carrie Currey, Lancaster, pink organdie.

Miss Stella Adams, Richmond, white organdie.

Miss Alta Marksby, Lancaster, heliotrope silk foulard.

Miss Mattie Jenkins, Lancaster, blue organdie.

Miss Tevis Carpenter, Stanford, white organdie.

Miss Bessie Turley, Richmond, pink mul, black lace.

Miss Margaret Gallahe, Lancaster, yellow organdie.

Miss Amy Davidson, Lancaster, pink silk waist, black silk skirt.

Miss Florence Burnside, Paint Lick, white muslin, blue ribbon.

Miss Clara Hayden, Lexington, green silk with black trimmings.

Miss Gena Dunlap, Lexington, green silk mul, pink mask.

Miss Kate Smith, Richmond, black taffeta, with net overdress.

Miss Lottie Webb, Lexington, grey silk mul, violet trimmings.

Miss Maggie Tomlinson, Lancaster, pink silk waist, black silk skirt.

Miss Bertha Burnside, Lancaster, blue silk waist, black crepon skirt.

Miss Hattie Robertson, Cynthia, pink crepe de chene with black applique.

Miss Francis Collier, Lancaster, white silk waist, grey crepe de chene skirt.

Miss Fay Packard, Independence, Mo., black velvet bodice, with black silk skirt.

The married folks were Mesdames J. E. Stormes, in white albatros, bright blue ribbon; Banks Hudson, blue organdie; J. M. Farra, white broadcloth trimmed in gold; J. Fleece Robinson, black skirt with rose colored broadcloth waist; A. H. Rice, black grenadine with green velvet waist; John Baughman, black grenadine trimmed in gold; Louis Landram, black grenadine over pink silk; Chas. Frisbie, black crepon trimmed in white; Jesse Sweeney, brown broadcloth.

The following young gentlemen were present. Dr. H. M. Blanton, Tom Collins, James Wagers, Wm. Feland, Will Walker, Joe Tevis, of Richmond; Will West, Harry Robinson, H. Kinnaird, Ed. and John Doty, John Burnside, Louis West, Brannon Beazley, Louis Herndon, F. B. Marksby, Ode Shugars, Alex. Denny, John E. Stormes, John Farra, Chas. Frisbie, Banks Hudson, Frazier, Gallahe, Harry Francis, Bass, Louis Landram and some ten or fifteen more.

At eleven o'clock supper was announced, and all repaired to the New Garrard where the following delightful menu was served in elegant style by mine host, T. B. Long. The tables were handsomely decorated, the bright silverware dazzling on the snow-white linen. The guests were loud in their praise of the supper, which proves that Mr. Long is a hotel man who understands the business.

Mr. W. B. Burton bought three extra fine horses at Richmond court Monday. He bought of Joe Chenault a 4-year-old combined gelding for $135, another fine 4-year-old gelding of Fox for $125 and a handsome coach horse of Barker, of Lexington, at $140.

Business For Sale.

Having made arrangements to engage in other business, will sell my entire stock of General Merchandise, storehouse and dwelling at cost. Anyone wishing a good bargain can secure one here.
C. C. Becker, Bryantville.

The scenery used by the Gus Sun American minstrels is called a spectacular transformation first part setting. It is said to be the most beautiful ever used by a minstrel company. Opera House to night. Prices lower than ever for such a great show.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank the people of Lancaster that have been so kind to me since I have been with them,—and especially those dear friends that stood so very near during the sickness and death of my darling baby.
Maggie T. Hobbs.

Attempted Suicide.

F. B. Crooke, the Richmond man who attempted to take his own life in the Stag hotel, Cincinnati, was well known in Lancaster, and had many friends here. There was no more popular young man than "Bud" Crooke, and many friends hope he will soon recover his health.

Banks Elect Directors.

At the annual election of directors of local banks, the following were chosen:

CITIZENS NATIONAL.
T. M. Arnold, L. Y. Leavell, B. F. Hudson, J. J. Walker, J. M. Higginbotham.
THE NATIONAL.
Sam'l Cochran, A. C. Robinson, Alex. R. Denny, W. H. Kinnaird, Jno. E. Stormes.

Harding & Miller Music Co.

The strong combination of Harding & Miller and Harding & Riehm, the largest line of pianos and organs in central states, lowest prices, easiest terms and best instruments in the world. Business booming. If I am too busy to talk to you, leave your order with E. W. Harris, North West corner Public Square, where you will find samples of our goods for inspection. Geo. M. Overman, Salesman.

Oh, Is That It?

The Danville Advocate, after saying the objective point of all the railroads of the country was Danville, or words to that effect, opens its head and gives voice to this:

"If Danville gets the road, Danville will become the metropolis of one of the richest sections of Kentucky. Will she get it? That is for the people of Boyle county to say. It is theirs if they are willing to put up."

So it is a case of "put up," is it? Well if the good county of Boyle is as successful in "putting up" this time as she was when the Cincinnati Southern was built, Garrard's cake is all dough, sure.

Lived a Century.

A special from McKinney says Mrs. Pauline Francis, who was born in a log cabin about the center of where the town of Lancaster, Ky., now stands, 108 years ago, died near this place Friday afternoon. Until quite recently she retained her mental powers remarkably well, while physically she was the better of six out of a dozen young women. Her hair was as black and straight as an Indian's, and her teeth as sound as dollars. She remembered much of the early history of the State, and could tell of many of the dangers, battles and privations of the early settlers.

El! Got There.

Eli Perkins began his lecture at the Court house in this city last night. A large audience heard the distinguished man. The police were called in at an early hour this morning and the lecturer forced to bring his remarks to a close. Few deaths are reported. If threats of a repetition are heard, the authorities will quarantine against him. You get your money's worth when you hear the gifted Eli.

A Call.

The members of the Democratic Committee of Garrard county, are requested to meet at Hon. R. H. Tomlinson's office, on Monday, January 23, at 10 o'clock, a. m. being county court day, for the purpose of making nominations for the county offices, and for the transaction of such business as may come before them. All candidates can have a hearing before nominations are in order.

T. B. ROBINSON, Ch'm.
M. D. HUGHES, Sec'y. 4t

Boyle Endorses Lillard.

At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee of Boyle county at the court house in Danville, Ky., on Saturday, Jan. 5th, 1901, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, During the 32 years existence of the Eighteenth Senatorial District, Lincoln county has had three Democratic nominees for Senator, Casey has had two nominees of said party for full terms and one for an unexpired term, Garrard county has had two nominees of said party and Boyle county has had only one, and believing that each county should have its just and equitable share and representation in the party's councils and honors, as long as it presents worthy and capable men, and further believing by any fair and reasonable process of reasoning Boyle county is entitled to the nominee at this time, and that the district will accord her the same,

PROVIDED, She presents a capable and good man. Such a man we have in Capt. E. W. Lillard, who is the very embodiment of true Democracy, loyal and unflinching in his adherence and fealty to his party's principles, and a conservative, intelligent business man, in every way worthy of the honor sought, and who we believe if given the nomination will carry our flag to victory.

Resolved, that we present the name of Capt. E. W. Lillard to the Democracy of the Eighteenth Senatorial District of Kentucky for the Democratic nomination, with full faith in the justice of our cause and with the belief that the other counties will do justice to Boyle county and accord Capt. Lillard the nomination.

Brand New Circus.

The following is telegraphed from New York. For the benefit of those who "go to see the animals and take the children," we reproduce it:

Glad tidings for the children came from James A. Bailey, the partner of the late P. T. Barnum. It was the announcement that at the cost of $500,000 he was going to organize a new circus for America, to be known as "Barnum & Bailey's New and Greatest Show on Earth."

The old Barnum's will never again come to America. It has passed into the hands of British stockholders, and while Mr. Bailey is chief shareholder, it is really a British institution. Mr. Bailey came to New York from Europe on Wednesday to make the preliminary arrangements for the new show.

PROHIBITION IN KENTUCKY.

An Eye Opener for the North.

A Louisville engraving firm will shortly complete the work of making a unique and interesting map for the Kentucky Temperance Societies. It will be so designed and arranged with shades and dots, as to show the "wet" sections and the "dry" of the State, and, strange to say, the "dry" area will overshadow the "wet" spots in the proportion of about nineteen to one-tenth. This state of facts will be calculated to startle northern and eastern people. It will upset one of the pet traditions of the Yankee playwright and destroy a part of the stock in the trade of the Yankee paragrapher. The Rev. Geo. W. Young, of Louisville, Field Secretary of the Kentucky Temperance Societies, has a charge of the collecting of data for the map. He has been engaged on the task for some months. The result of his labors has been astonishing even to the creator of the plan. It is shown that there are remarkably few altogether "wet" counties in Kentucky. Thirty of Kentucky's counties are entirely "dry," as many more are "wet" in one spot, or to be more exact, liquor is retained only at the county seat. All but five are "dry" in spots, that is there are no retail liquor stores in certain voting precincts. The five entirely "wet" counties are located mostly on the slopes of Muldraugh's Hill, where peach orchards and small licensed brandy distilleries are numerous. Most of the entirely "dry" counties are located in the mountain counties of East Kentucky. Of course illicit distilling and blind tigers thrive in all or nearly all of the local option counties. There are only four places where liquor is sold openly and legally in the seventh Appellate district, which is composed of twenty-one big counties in the 9th, 10th and 11th Congressional districts.—Ex.

Fine Farm For Sale.

I will sell privately my farm, containing 342 1/2 acres, situated 1 1/2 miles south of Bryantville. There is a splendid 2-story dwelling, containing six rooms on the place, good barn, ice house, granary and all other necessary out buildings. Never-failing water at door, and plenty of stock water on the place. The place is well suited for stock farm. All under good fence. Close to churches and good school. Good reason for selling. Will take a smaller farm or other business in exchange.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured!—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—driven from the surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early childhood.

Like Bogies Like.—surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early childhood.

The Sin of the Parent.—system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

READING LYING DOWN.

Here are Some Arguments to Show It Is Not an Injurious Practice.

There is no valid reason to be urged against using the eyes in a proper manner in a recumbent position; such use is the least tiresome, and can be persisted in for longer periods without damage than any other position. We all know, says Everybody's Magazine, that grave damage is often done by reading in a recumbent posture, but I fear oculists are largely at fault. Had it been the universal practice during the past 20 or 30 years to give careful directions how to read lying down instead of saying to one and all: "You must not read lying down," there would be less nearsighted and better eyes in the community than now exist. Three easily avoided errors cause all the damage possible from reading lying down. The first, often leading to the other two, they are insufficient or wrongly directed light, short reading distance and tipping the book out of a plane at right angles to the line of vision.

It is common for people to lie down to read at a distance from a good light, and often the light is not only poor, but in such a direction that it is impossible to read the book properly and illuminate it at all. Some times the light is in front, which always throws the print in shadow, necessitating a close reading distance, which is likely to produce cramping of the ciliary muscles, congestion of all the internal structures and permanent progressive nearsightedness. Or, in order to secure even better light, it is necessary to tip the book so that both the ciliary and extrinsic muscles are overworked and eye tire soon supervenes.

If, however, everyone reading lying down will so arrange his lounge or bed that the light comes over the head without striking the eyes, and falls well upon the page; if he will hold his book at a long reading distance, and take care that the line of letters shall be at right angles to the line of vision, all of which may require a book rest, he can be sure to do his eyes no more harm than if he were sitting up. More than this, there is a large credit in favor of reading lying down. The recumbent posture allows more rest of all the bodily structures than the sitting posture, and there is greater possibility of resting and repair in that position. Those who have tried it know the benefits accruing, after a hard day's work, from the reading, which the press of business makes almost an absolute necessity, and I have met busy practitioners of medicine who felt the need of this rest, but were afraid to take it because of a superstition that they might ruin their eyes.

One more fact is to the credit side of the score. Whenever possible we bring gravity into play to relieve congestion, especially that of a passive type. It has long been recognized that throwing the head slightly back beyond the perpendicular brought gravity into play to empty the choroidal veins and those of the uveal tract, which are principally overfilled by prolonged eye work, but why we have failed to carry this to its logical conclusion is a mystery. It is so plain that carrying the head back to a horizontal position so absolutely meets the whole problem of a relief of a congestion by gravity, and it is a very important problem, that it seems strange that we have not been advising all our patients with weak eyes and internal congestions to practice, so far as possible, reading in a dorsal, recumbent position, with the head raised only so much as is necessary to make the position perfectly comfortable. I feel sure that such advice carried out with absolute care as to light and the position of the book would in the case of a thousand busy people add largely to the number of hours which reading could be indulged in without detriment to the eyes or general health.

BIG PROFITS FROM OTTERS.

Some Pelts Secured in Northwestern Waters Bring $500 Each—Shooting the Animal.

The most beautiful stretch of ocean beach to be found anywhere on the Pacific coast of the United States is the wide expanse of spotless and glittering sand which lies between Gray's harbor and the Quinalt river. There may be seen an unbroken area of 20 miles in length and at low tide from three to five miles in width which would make a moonlight playing ground for the hours, says the Portland Oregonian.

There are many tower-like structures at regular distances of perhaps a mile each, which excite the curiosity of the many coast line steamers plying between San Francisco and northern ports. These are the towers or shooting boxes of sea otter hunters. They are built of tall, slender poles, generally four in number, sunk to a great depth and fixed securely in the sand and surrounded by a small box covered with a roof to protect its occupants from the burning sun. Cleats securely fastened to the poles from bottom to top afford the hunter means of ingress and egress.

The hot sun which blazes fiercely on this wide expanse of white sand during the months of July and August heats it almost to a burning point, and the waters of the incoming tide, rolling and curling over this hot sand, become deliciously warm. This is the playing ground of the sea otter, the place where they come to spend their holidays.

They leave their homes in the far off rocky islands, where there are no sand beaches, and the green waters are cold and deep, and come here like people to a watering place, to spend the summer months in rolling and tumbling about in this warm water in a perfect ecstasy of delight. They leap and play about in the foaming breakers and polish their beautiful skins by hugging the sandy bottom and allowing the ocean swells to drive and throw them about as they will.

Although sea otters have the timidity which is natural to all wild animals which have their homes in the sea. The swiftness of their movements makes it possible for them easily to catch any kind of small fish, and thus they can appease their hunger with the daintiest food.

No shark can catch them; they could be 20 feet away while Mr. Shark was turning on his back, and if the shark were directly beneath them they could throw themselves five feet in the air like a kaleidoscope ball, while the ugly monster was snapping his jaws. The hunter is in his box, the tide is coming in and, with a powerful field glass to assist his practiced eye, he eagerly scans each coming roller. He has been here every day for a week, and his rifle has lain untouched by his side. Today something may happen.

All at once he starts and mutters a little ejaculation; he sees something. He will soon know what it is, for the swells are coming swiftly and the distance between himself and the object he has seen will be quickly lessened. Yes, there it is again; there is no mistake. It is an otter, not more than 600 yards away. The hunter lays down his glass and there is $500 or $600 worth of beautiful shining fur plainly visible to the naked eye.

The man in the tower picks up his Sharp's rifle, inserts a 120-grain cartridge in the chamber, and there is a wicked, wistful gleam in the keen eye of the hunter as he raises his weapon for the first shot. There is a flash, a recoil and a report, which is scarcely distinguishable in the roaring of the breakers to the man who holds the gun. Ammunition is no object, and, with lightning rapidity, he loads and fires his piece. The otter will not be more than ten feet away from where he was when the hunter pulled the trigger when he gets there, and that hunter can hit a bounding deer at 300 yards twice out of five shots. The otter is enjoying himself in the dangerous company of murderous bullets, which are doing their best to find him.

Another huge breaker brings him within 200 yards of the blazing rifle. A quick recoil of the heavy gun turns the hunter half round; there is an unnatural splash which tells the man something has happened. He strains his eyes; no need of his glass to see there is blood in the water, and this tells him that there is a big hole somewhere in that $500.

No need to shoot again; no otter could bleed like that and not be washed ashore. The hunter lays down his heated gun; there will be no more otters in sight to-day. He sees his game almost opposite his tower; it is drifting helplessly toward the shore. That skin is his and his possession means that he will have everything he wants for another year if he does not fire a single shot.

With a yell of delight he tells toward the shanty on the bluff to tell his mother and the half dozen or so of other little half-breeds what has happened, and they all come trooping down the beach as fast as their legs can carry them.

The tide is going out now and the blood of the otter stains the sand which has lured him to destruction, and the ebbing ripples tenderly caress for the last time the pretty animal which has been their playmate all its life, and the sea will moan for the free-born thing which has always had a home in its bosom.

Some way or another the news spreads quickly and other hunters and crowds of Siwash come trooping toward the dead otter from all directions.

Nothing to Retract. "You ought to take down that sign. You sold me some of these 'fresh mixed nuts' the other day," the indignant customer said, "and they're not fresh mixed nuts at all. When I took them home I found they were all old and strong."

"Nevertheless, ma'am," replied the man who kept the establishment, "that sign is a-going to stay right where it is. I mix those nuts fresh every few days, ma'am."—Chicago Tribune.

An Effort to Choose. "What is the cause of this long and pensive silence?" asked a patriarch of the tribe.

"I am trying to reach a decision on a very difficult question," answered the barbarian. "I have been looking over these instruments of perpetual torture—tight patent leather shoes, high collars and starched shirts. I am trying to make up my mind whether I would rather be civilized or be shot."—Washington Star.

A Wonderful Offer to Women.

We have received word of a most remarkable offer which is to be made to women by The Delinquent, of New York.

Taking the fact that next year begins a new century, The Delinquent offers to distribute $17,500 among 1901 women. The plan is so cleverly arranged that a woman living in a small town or village, has just as good a chance to win one of these 1901 prizes as a woman living in a city—because the prizes are given for the number of subscriptions secured in a town in proportion to the population of that town, instead of being given simply to those who send the largest list of subscribers—which, of course, are most easily obtained in big cities. Another clever feature of the plan is, that all the cities and towns of the United States and Canada have been arranged in seven classes. The cities of the greatest population are grouped in Class 1, and as these cities are not very many, the prizes offered are twenty-eight; the highest prize being $500, and the lowest $5.00.

The total amount of prizes given away in this class is $1,000. The remaining smaller towns and villages fall into six other classes, and as the number of towns in a class increases, because, of course, there are more small towns than large ones, the amount of prizes given away to a class increases, so that in Class 7, there will be $4,000 distributed among 601 winners.

Furthermore, to everyone who fails to win one of the 1901 prizes there will be paid an extra commission on subscriptions, provided they equal one out of every two hundred inhabitants of the town from which the contestant sends them.

This is altogether a very liberal offer, and one which the famous old Delinquent is well able to make good. From our point of view, we do not see why such an offer needs to be made by the Publishers of The Delinquent, for we believe it already has nearly half a million subscribers. Its strong hold upon the affections of American women has come in the past generation, from its practical advice about dress details and home matters.
